

Welcome

Welcome to the new Africa ISE (International Student Edition) catalogue. All the titles listed in this catalogue are available to the African market at specially reduced prices, direct from your local bookseller.

With over 300 titles listed, the Taylor & Francis list includes a diverse range of both new titles and new editions of well-established titles, covering vocational and professional, in key subject areas such as Medical, Law, Business, Engineering and Construction.

Highlights for this year sees the arrival of a new title to the bestselling medical series 100 Cases. 100 Cases in Clinical Pharmacology, Therapeutics and Prescribing includes true-to-life cases which teaches students and junior doctors to prescribe appropriately. Making speedy and appropriate clinical decisions and choosing the best course of action to take as a result, is one of the most important and challenging parts of training to become a doctor.

Sticking with our Medical list we have also added the new publication Making Sense of the ECG: A Hands on Guide. Now in its 5th edition this popular, easy-to-read and easy-to-remember guide to the ECG, will help the student and more experienced healthcare practitioner to identify and answer crucial questions.

For education we have Making it as a Teacher which offers a variety of tips, anecdotes, real-life examples and practical advice to help new teachers survive and thrive. Jumpstart! Maths now in its 3rd edition, presents a collection of simple-to-use, multi-sensory games and activities which will jumpstart students' understanding of mathematics.

We've also added three more titles to our Tourism and Hospitality section. Pocket Guide for Hospitality Managers is written in a non-academic style and offers a concise, practical guide that provides the skills and knowledge for current and future managers across the hospitality industry. As an essential introductory resource, Hospitality Finance and Accounting provides an accessible and comprehensive introduction to hospitality, finance and accounting from a managerial perspective. Marketing for Tourism and Hospitality provides students with a contemporary and accessible resource with international case material to help them prepare for day-to-day problems in the dynamic world of marketing.

This year should also see the arrival of new editions of some of our key bestselling titles to include:

- Advanced Automotive Fault Diagnosis – 5th Edition
- Apley and Solomon's Concise System of Orthopaedics and Trauma – 5th Edition
- Browse's Introduction to the Symptoms & Signs of Surgical Disease – 6th Edition
- Building Construction Handbook - 12th Edition
- Craig's Soil Mechanics – 9th Edition
- Muir's Textbook of Pathology – 16th Edition

Africa Under Neoliberalism

Edited by Nana Poku, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa and Jim Whitman, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

Series: Contemporary African Politics

Bringing together leading researchers and analysts to examine key questions from a multidisciplinary perspective this book involves a fundamental departure from orthodox analysis which often predates colonialism as the referent object. Here, three decades of neoliberalism with its complex social and economic philosophy are given primacy. With the changed focus, an elucidation of the relationship between global development and local changes are examined through a myriad of pressing contemporary issues to offer a critical multi-disciplinary appraisal of challenge and change in Africa over the past three decades.

African Political Thought of the Twentieth Century

A Re-engagement

Edited by Shiera S. el-Malik, DePaul University, Chicago, USA

This book focuses on African political thought, as it emerged in the context of and contributed to fundamental changes in world order during the twentieth century, and as it continues to speak to the present global condition. This collection is unusual in its breadth, bringing together analyses of radical thinkers and activists from the Portuguese-, French- and English-speaking regions of Africa.

Boko Haram

Security Considerations and the Rise of an Insurgency

Ona Ekhomu

Boko Haram examines the activities and atrocities of Nigeria's Jihadi terrorist group Boko Haram in the context of global religious fundamentalism and extremism. The book traces the early beginnings of the religious sect, the conversion of its leader to radical Islam in 2002, and the group's campaign of violence. The Nigerian government response is also examined in order to provide critical lessons to counter-terrorism planners, officials and scholars. Coverage focuses on the work done, and what work needs to continue, to make gains to combat, marginalize, and ultimately defeat Boko Haram and resolve the conflict facing Nigeria.

Climate Change and Agriculture in Africa

Impact Assessment and Adaptation Strategies

Ariel Dinar, Rashid Hassan, Robert Mendelsohn, James Benhin and et al

Series: Earthscan Climate

This landmark book encompasses a comprehensive assessment of the potential economic impacts of future climate change, and the value of adaptation measures in Africa for different zones, regions, countries and farm types. Researchers developed and applied multiple analytical procedures to assess quantitatively how climate affects current agricultural systems in Africa, enabling them to predict how these systems may be affected in the future by climate change under various global warming scenarios, and suggesting what role adaptation could play.

Economic Growth and Development in Africa

Understanding trends and prospects

Horman Chitonge, University of Cape Town, South Africa

Series: Routledge Studies in African Development

This book analyses the accounts of Africa's economic growth and development experiences, including the current Africa Rising Narrative, from multidisciplinary perspectives. It is a critical assessment of the explanations given for the widely acknowledged poor economic growth and development performance in Africa, prior to the 2000s. It uniquely tries to locate African intellectuals and scholars in the construction of Africa's economic growth and development portraits over the years. It also provides a detailed analysis of how the World Bank and the IMF have interpreted and dealt with the African development challenges and experiences.

Conservation and Development in Uganda

Edited by Chris Sandbrook, UNEP, UK, Connor Joseph Cavanagh, Norwegian University of Life Sciences, Norway and David Mwesigye Tumusiime, Makerere University, Uganda

Series: Earthscan Conservation and Development

This volume reviews and assesses varied approaches to conservation and development in Uganda, a country whose recent history is characterized by a highly volatile governance and development context and whose extensive protected areas, tropical forests and iconic wildlife (including mountain gorillas) have global significance for biodiversity. It highlights the stakes both for vulnerable human populations in the context of large and growing socioeconomic inequalities, as well as for Uganda's rich, unique, natural environment. It draws out lessons that can be learned from the Ugandan experience for conservation and development practitioners and scholars around the world.

Epistemic Freedom in Africa

Deprovincialization and Decolonization

Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, University of South Africa

Series: Rethinking Development

Epistemic Freedom in Africa is about the struggle for African people to think, theorise, interpret the world and write from where they are located, unencumbered by Eurocentrism. The imperial denial of common humanity to some human beings meant that in turn their knowledge was awarded little or no value. Now, Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni argues the need to centre Africa as a legitimate historical unit of analysis and epistemic site from which to interpret the world, whilst simultaneously globalising knowledge from Africa. Ultimately, the book argues that only once the problem of epistemic freedom had been addressed can Africa achieve political, cultural, economic and other freedoms.

Debating African Philosophy

Perspectives on Identity, Decolonial Ethics and Comparative Philosophy

Edited by George Hull, University of Cape Town, South Africa

In African countries there has been a surge of intellectual interest in foregrounding ideas and thinkers of African origin that have been unjustly ignored or marginalized. This book demonstrates the potential for constructive interchange between currents of thought from African philosophy and other intellectual currents within philosophy. Showing how foregrounding Africa can help with the project of renewing and improving the discipline of philosophy worldwide, this book will stimulate and challenge everyone with an interest in philosophy, and is essential reading for upper level undergraduate students, postgraduate students and scholars of African and Africana philosophy.

Governance of the Petroleum Sector in an Emerging Developing Economy

Kwaku Appiah-Adu

Oil exploration in the developing world has been and continues to be a high profile and high risk activity attracting media coverage and stimulating much debate. In Governance of the Petroleum Sector in an Emerging Developing Economy, Professor Kwaku Appiah-Adu has assembled an edited volume that provides insight into critical aspects of this highly sensitive activity. Professor Appiah-Adu's starting point is Ghana, where he has been closely involved in national policy-making. The book makes comparisons between that African country and others as diverse as Trinidad and Tobago, and Norway. The contributors, global experts in their respective fields, explore five critical themes and propose strategies for progress in each. You will find an in-depth analysis relating to: turning oil and gas wealth into sustainable and equitable development; entrenching transparency and stakeholder engagement; effective management of the oil and gas sector; and safeguarding security and the environment.

Industrial Development in Africa

Mapping Industrialization Pathways for a Leaping Leopard

Berhanu Abegaz, College of William and Mary, USA

Industrial Development in Africa critically synthesizes and reframes the debates on African industrial development in a capability-opportunity framework. Unpacking complex and diverse experiences, the chapters look at Africa at several levels: continent-wide, sub-regions on both side of the Sahara and present analytical case studies of twelve representative countries: Egypt, Tunisia, Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania, Mauritius, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Ghana, Nigeria, Senegal, and Cote d'Ivoire.

Left Universalism, Africentric Essays

Ato Sekyi-Otu

Left Universalism, Africentric Essays presents a defense of universalism as the foundation of moral and political arguments and commitments. Consisting of five intertwined essays, the book claims that centering such arguments and commitments on a particular place, in this instance the African world, is entirely compatible with that foundational universalism. Ato Sekyi-Otu thus proposes a less conventional mode of Africentrism, one that rejects the usual hostility to universalism as an imperialist Eurocentric hoax.

Real Governance and Practical Norms in Sub-Saharan Africa

The game of the rules

Edited by Tom De Herdt, University of Antwerp, Belgium, and Jean-Pierre OLIVIER de SARDAN, LASDEL, Niamey, Niger

Series: Routledge Studies in African Politics and International Relations

This text interrogates the variety of ways in which state policies and legal norms have been translated into sets of practical norms making up real governance in sub-Saharan Africa. It argues that the concept of practical norms is one of the appropriate tools for an ethnographic investigation on public bureaucracies, interactions between civil servants and users, or the daily functioning of the state in Africa.

3rd Edition

The History of Africa

The Quest for Eternal Harmony

Molefi Kete Asante, Temple University, USA

Authoritative and comprehensive, this book provides a wide-ranging history of Africa from earliest prehistory to the present day – using the cultural, social, political, and economic lenses of Africa as instruments to illuminate the ordinary lives of Africans. The result is a fresh survey that includes a wealth of indigenous ideas, African concepts, and traditional outlooks that have escaped the writing of African history in the West. The new edition includes information on the recent conflicts in Libya and the Sudan, as well as additional content on the experiences and contributions of women.

Social Innovation In Africa

A practical guide for scaling impact

Nndi Okonkwo Nwuneli, LEAP Africa, Nigeria

Series: Routledge Studies in African Development

Encouraged by the emergence and early impact of social innovators on the African Continent, but frustrated by the slow pace of large scale change, this book is focused on filling the knowledge gap among aspiring and emerging social innovators. It lays out the required building blocks, including creating clear mission, vision, and values statements. It presents business models that are demand-driven, simple, and low-cost, with compelling measurement and evaluation tools that leverage technology. It also explores the steps for attracting and retaining talent and financing and forming strategic partnerships with the private, public and nonprofit sectors to foster scaling.

The Political Economy of Africa

Edited by Vishnu Padayachee, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

The Political Economy of Africa aims to fill a major gap in the existing literature by exploring the economy and economics of Africa. The book will adopt a critical approach from a perspective of political economy rather than mainstream economics and the aim is to address the seemingly intractable economic problems of the African continent, and trace their origins, but also always to bring out the instances of successful economic change, and the possibilities for economic revival and renewal.

Building Regional Peace and Security Systems

David J. Francis

Plagued by bloody wars and armed conflicts, political instability, communal violence and displaced persons, and at the mercy of natural catastrophes such as drought and famine, it is not surprising that the Western press has long dismissed Africa as the 'hopeless continent'. In the face of these challenges, Africa today is faced with a stark choice: either unite or perish. The debate on why and how the continent should unite in terms of co-operative peace, security and development is more urgent than at any other time in Africa's post-colonial history. Moving forward from the failure of the earlier, typically idealistic Africa unity project, David Francis demonstrates how peace and security challenges have created the imperative for change.

Theories and Practices of Development

Katie Willis, Royal Holloway, University of London, UK

Series: Routledge Perspectives on Development

Global economic crisis and the implications of global environmental change have led academics and policy-makers to consider how 'development' in all parts of the world should be achieved. Theories and Practices of Development provides a clear and user-friendly introduction to the complex debates around how development has been understood and achieved. The second edition has been fully updated and expanded to reflect global political and economic shifts, as well as new approaches to development. The rise of China and India is given particular attention, as is the global economic crisis and its implications for development theories and practice. There are new sections on faith-based development, disability and sexuality, as well as greater engagement with development theories as they are put into practice in the Global North.

Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy

The Inside Story of the Sustainable Development Goals

Macharia Kamau, Pamela Chasek and David O'Connor

Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy provides the inside view of the negotiations that produced the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Not only did this process mark a sea change in how the UN conducts multilateral diplomacy, it changed the way the UN does its business. This book tells the story of the people, issues, negotiations, and paradigm shifts that unfolded through the Open Working Group (OWG) on SDGs and the subsequent negotiations on the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda, from the unique point of view of Ambassador Macharia Kamau, and other key participants from governments, the UN Secretariat, and civil society.

Vehicle Electronic Systems and Fault Diagnosis

Allan Bonnick

The average car now contains much more electronic circuitry than would have been the case, even five years ago. This leaves many technicians struggling to keep up with current developments in the repair and maintenance of these electronic systems. Often, texts covering vehicle electronics dwell on unnecessary maths and general electronics principles. This practical guide discusses electronics only within the context of the vehicle system under consideration and thus keeps theory to a minimum.

Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Peter Drucker

Series: Routledge Classics

How can management be developed to create the greatest wealth for society as a whole? This is the question Peter Drucker sets out to answer in Innovation and Entrepreneurship. A brilliant, mould-breaking attack on management orthodoxy it is one of Drucker's most important books, offering an excellent overview of some of his main ideas. He argues that what defines an entrepreneur is their attitude to change: 'the entrepreneur always searches for change, responds to it and exploits it as an opportunity'. To exploit change, according to Drucker, is to innovate. With a new foreword by Joseph Maciariello.

Insurance Theory and Practice

Rob Thoys, London Metropolitan University, UK

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the theory, functioning, management and legal background of the insurance industry. Written in accessible, non-technical style, Insurance Theory and Practice begins with an examination of the insurance concept, its guiding principles and legal rules before moving on to an analysis of the market, its players and their roles and relationships.

The model is the UK insurance market which is globally recognized and forms the basis of the insurance system in a range of countries in the Middle East, Africa and the Caribbean as well as Australia and Canada. The book covers the underlying ideas behind insurance transactions, together with the legal and financial principles that permit these concepts to function in the real world.

But Project Management has been kept completely up to date by regular and sensitive revisions to ensure that it remains fresh and totally relevant. Project Management explains the entire project management process in great detail, demonstrating techniques from simple charts to detailed computer applications. Everything is reinforced with clear diagrams and case examples, many new for this edition. The author has expanded discussion of topics such as supply chain management and the project management office (PMO), and there are new chapters about implementing change management projects and the role of senior managers in supporting projects.

Social Media Campaigns

Strategies for Public Relations and Marketing

Carolyn Mae Kim, Biola University, USA

Social media has ushered in a new era of communication between organizations and key stakeholders. This text guides readers through a four-step process of developing a robust social media campaign. Covering the latest industry standards and best practices to engage digital audiences through social listening, strategic design, creative engagement and evaluation, each chapter also includes expert insights from social media professionals. Focusing on principles rather than a specific platform, this is a text dedicated to developing social media competency that can adapt to any organization or environment.

The Adult Learner

Malcolm S. Knowles, Elwood F. Holton III, Louisiana State University, USA and Richard A. Swanson, University of Minnesota, USA

Malcolm Knowles' pioneering theory of andragogy transformed education theory in the 1970s. His principles of a self-directed, experiential, problem-centred approach to learning have been hugely influential and are still the basis of the learning practices we use today.

The 8th edition of The Adult Learner has been fully revised and updated. Holton and Swanson have enlivened the latest edition making it more accessible than ever. If you are a researcher, practitioner or student in education, an adult learning practitioner, training manager, or are involved in human resource development, this is the definitive book in adult learning you should not be without.

The Effective Executive

Peter Drucker

There are already thousands of managers who are avid readers of Peter Drucker's books, this revised Classic Collection will establish many more. He identifies five talents as essential to effectiveness, and these can be learned; Intelligence, imagination and knowledge may all be wasted in an executive job without the acquired habits of mind that convert these into results. How these can be developed forms the main body of the book. The author ranges widely through the annals of business and government to demonstrate the distinctive skill of the executive. He turns familiar experience upside down to see it in new perspective. The book is full of surprises, with its fresh insights into old and seemingly trite situations.

The Essentials of Project Management

Dennis Lock

Series: The Essentials of Project and Programme Management

In recent years organizations of all kinds have learned that project working, once considered significant only for engineering and construction companies, can help to ensure that the intended benefits of business change will be realized in full and on time. This development means that more people than ever before need to understand the basic process, language and purpose of project working. That awareness is important not only for those actually engaged in project work, in all sectors of industry and commerce, but also for senior managers, project sponsors and the other stakeholders. The fourth edition of Essentials of Project Management is the junior complement to Dennis Lock's comprehensive, successful and encyclopaedic textbook, Project Management (now in its Tenth Edition).

The Goal

A Process of Ongoing Improvement

Eliyahu M. Goldratt and Jeff Cox

Written in a fast-paced thriller style, The Goal is the gripping novel which is transforming management thinking throughout the Western world. The author has been described by Fortune as a 'guru to industry' and by Businessweek as a 'genius'. It is a book to recommend to your friends in industry - even to your bosses - but not to your competitors. Alex Rogo is a harried plant manager working ever more desperately to try and improve performance. His factory is rapidly heading for disaster. So is his marriage. He has ninety days to save his plant - or it will be closed by corporate HQ, with hundreds of job losses. It takes a chance meeting with a colleague from student days - Jonah - to help him break out of conventional ways of thinking to see what needs to be done.

Carpentry and Joinery 1

Brian Porter and Chris Tooke

The third edition of Carpentry and Joinery 1 is the first in a series of three books which together provide an authoritative but thoroughly practical guide to carpentry and joinery for students following City & Guilds and CITB courses, NVQ candidates, and a wide range of amateurs and professionals.

Carpentry and Joinery 1 deals with the fundamentals of the subject from topics such as timber and wood preservation and protection, to a detailed outline of the tools available and information on the basic woodworking joints, adhesives and fixing devices. Books 2 and 3 show how to apply this fundamental knowledge. Details of craft theory, associated studies and practical procedures are integrated throughout each text.

Work Activities

Chris Tooke

This highly illustrated textbook is written to meet the needs of candidates studying for the NVQ levels 2 and 3 in Carpentry and Joinery, and other courses at this level. Each chapter covers a specific activity such as constructing stairs or windows and includes the selection of produced components, setting out, marking out, assembly and fixing. The book contains references to the companion volume by the same authors (Bench and Site Skills) and to the relevant regulations and standards. Together with Carpentry and Joinery: Bench and Site Skills this book will form an invaluable resource for students long after they qualify.

Engineering Surveying

W Schofield, Formerly Kingston University, UK and Mark Breach, Nottingham Trent University, UK

Engineering surveying is a critical part of any engineering project, because without an accurate understanding of the size, shape and nature of the site the project risks expensive and time-consuming errors or even catastrophic failure. Working from basic principles and practice right through to the most modern technologies, Wilf Schofield and Mark Breach bring both expertise and clarity to a complex subject. With many worked examples and illustrations of tools and techniques Engineering Surveying is essential reading for student and professional alike.

Estimating and Tendering for Construction Work

Martin Brook, Carillion Plc, UK

This 5th edition explains the job of the estimator through every stage, from early cost studies to the creation of budgets for successful tenders. It covers: new tendering and procurement methods; the move from basic estimating to cost-planning; the NRM, and how practicing estimators will implement the guidance; technologies such as BIM and estimating systems which can interact with 3D design models. Clearly-written and illustrated with examples, notes and technical documentation, this book is ideal for students on construction-related courses at HNC/HND and Degree levels. It is also an important source for associated professions and estimators at the outset of their careers.

10 Mindframes for Visible Learning

Teaching for Success

John Hattie, University of Melbourne and Klaus Zierer, University of Augsburg, Germany

The original Visible Learning research concluded that one of the most important influencers of student achievement is how teachers think about learning and their own role. Mindframes for Visible Learning defines the 10 behaviours or mindframes that teachers need to adopt to maximise student success. These powerful mindframes that should underpin every action in school are founded on the belief that teachers are evaluators, change agents, learning experts and seekers of feedback constantly engaged with dialogue and challenge. This practical guide includes questionnaires, checklists and exercises to help schools implement Hattie's mindframes and maximise success.

Advanced Electrical Installation Work

City and Guilds Edition

Trevor Linsley, formerly a Senior Lecturer at Blackpool and the Fylde College and Head of the NVQ Assessment Centre, UK.

This new edition covers the City and Guilds 2365-03 course, updated in line with the 18th Edition of the Wiring Regulations. Written in an accessible style with a chapter dedicated to each unit of the syllabus, this book helps you to master each topic before moving on to the next. This new edition includes information on construction and demolition sites, fire proofing, energy efficiency and LED lights, as well as some updated diagrams. End of chapter revision questions help you to check your understanding and consolidate the key concepts learned in each chapter. Full colour diagrams and extensive online material explain difficult concepts.

Basic Electrical Installation Work

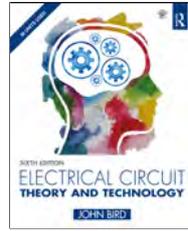

Trevor Linsley, former Senior Lecturer at Blackpool and the Fylde College

Basic Electrical Installation Work suits students taking the City and Guilds 2365 Diploma, that is, the first year course of an electrical installation apprenticeship. The book provides answers to all of the 2365 syllabus learning outcomes, and one chapter is dedicated to each unit of the five units in the City and Guilds course. This edition is brought up to date and in line with the 18th Edition of the IET Regulations.

Electrical Installation WorkBrian Scaddan

Now updated in line with the 18th Edition of the Wiring Regulations, this highly successful book provides a topic by topic progression through the areas of electrical installations, including how and why electrical installations are designed, installed and tested. Brian Scaddan's subject-led approach makes this a valuable resource for professionals and students on both City and Guilds and EAL courses.

Additional content in this edition includes detail on LED lighting and medical locations. A new appendix contains a glossary of electrical installation work terms, ensuring that readers of all levels of experience can easily grasp every topic.

PAT: Portable Appliance Testing

In-Service Inspection and Testing of Electrical Equipment

Brian Scaddan

The Electricity at Work Regulations 1989 requires any electrical system to be constructed, maintained and used in such a manner as to prevent danger. This means that inspection and testing of systems, including portable appliances, is needed in order to determine if maintenance is required.

This book explains in clear language what needs to be done and includes expert advice on legislation as well as actual testing. The book contains an appendix providing the electrical fundamentals needed by non-specialists and also has sample questions (with answers) for the C&G 2377 exam.

Pattern Cutting and Making Up

Janet Ward and Martin Shoben

Major changes have occurred in the last few years in the methods of cutting and manufacturing outerwear. Light clothing companies are now manufacturing these heavy garments which have resulted in the deskilling of traditional tailoring methods. Outerwear has consequently assumed much greater importance in light clothing courses and this book - the first of its kind - has been written to reflect these industrial changes. It offers a course of practical and theoretical study which is related to specific garment types and fabrics.

Nutrition

Maintaining and Improving Health

Geoffrey P. Webb, University of East London, UK

This book contains in-depth and critical reviews of the methods used to evaluate nutritional intakes/status and the observational and experimental used to investigate putative links between dietary factors and health outcome. It covers the role of food as a source of energy and nutrients while discussing the non-nutritional roles of food and the social and psychological factors that influence food choice. Presenting a critical discussion on the value of nutrition research linking specific foods or nutrients to specific diseases encourages students to question the value of some current nutrition research.

Law: The Basics

Gary Slapper, NYU London, UK and David Kelly, formerly at Staffordshire University, UK

Series: The Basics

An engaging introduction to one of the most complex areas of modern life. The book introduces both the main components of the legal system - including judges, juries and law-makers - and key areas of law - contract, civil negligence, and criminal law - to provide the uninitiated with an ideal introduction to law. Key questions to be considered include:

How are laws made? How do judges decide cases? What is the exact role of the EU in the legal system? What are your rights and duties under contract law? What is a crime and what are criminal defences?

Legal English

Rupert Haigh, Forum Legal, Finland

Legal English provides a highly practical approach to the key aspects of the use of English in commercial legal contexts covering crucial law terminology and legal concepts. Written with the needs of both LLB students and practitioners in mind, the book is also ideal for those people for whom English is an additional language. The book covers both written and oral legal communication in typical legal situations in a straightforward manner. As well as including chapters on grammar and punctuations for legal writing the book features sections on contract-drafting guidance, language for negotiation, meetings, and telephone conversations.

Introducing Sociolinguistics

Miriam Meyerhoff, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand

The third edition of this highly successful textbook is supported by The Routledge Sociolinguistics Reader, Doing Sociolinguistics and online resources shared by all books. It provides a solid, up-to-date appreciation of the interdisciplinary nature of the field covering foundation issues, recent advances and current debates. It presents familiar or classic data in new ways, and supplements the familiar with fresh examples from a wide range of languages and social settings. It clearly explains the patterns and systems that underlie language variation in use, as well as ways in which alternations between different language varieties index personal style, social power and national identity.

Language, Society and Power

Annabelle Mooney, Roehampton University, UK and Betsy Evans

This book is an accessible introduction to studying language in a variety of social contexts, examining the ways language functions, how it influences the way we view society and how it varies according to age, ethnicity, class and gender. It considers whether representations of people and their language matter, explores how identity is constructed and performed, and covers the creative potential of language in the media, politics and everyday talk. Assuming no linguistic background among readers, this is a must-read for students of English language and linguistics, media, communication, cultural studies, sociology and psychology who are studying language and society for the first time.

100 Diagnostic Dilemmas in Clinical Medicine

Kerry Layne, Guy's & St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust, London, UK

100 Diagnostic Dilemmas in Clinical Medicine presents real-life scenarios seen in the hospital and community setting. A succinct summary of the patient's history, examination and any initial investigations is followed by a detailed discussion of the diagnosis and management of each case, in the short, medium and, where appropriate, long-term. Making speedy and appropriate clinical decisions, and choosing the best course of action to take as a result, is one of the most important and challenging parts of training to become a doctor. These true-to-life cases will teach students and junior doctors to recognize important medical conditions, and to develop their diagnostic and management skills.

Basic Pathology

An introduction to the mechanisms of disease

Sunil R. Lakhani, University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia, Caroline J. Finlayson, St George's, University of London, UK, Susan A. Dilly, Formerly Barts and The London, Queen Mary's School of Medicine and Dentistry, London, UK and Mitesh Gandhi, Princess Alexandra Hospital, Woolloongabba, Brisbane, Australia

An accessible and enjoyable introduction to pathology and the mechanisms of disease, this book puts pathology into its historical, scientific and clinical context. Organized in four main themes - What is a Disease, Defense Against Disease, Circulatory Disorders and Disorders of Cell Growth - the text highlights key mechanisms and their interplay in producing symptoms, signs and disease. Supplemented throughout with colorful cartoons, and much-praised clinical scenarios, this entertaining look at pathology offers historical anecdotes and helpful key-points boxes.

To help advance global surgery as a public health intervention, providers and students require a practical, hands-on manual to train them to provide safe and effective surgery and anesthesia in resource-limited settings. This guide provides in-depth instruction on epidemiology and ethics surrounding surgical services, and on anesthesia, non-trauma surgery, and trauma surgery. With contributions from a group of culturally and academically diverse clinicians, each chapter is enriched by at least one commentary from a surgeon or anesthesiologist in a low- or middle-income country (LMIC) who shares first-hand perspectives on the realities and complexities of providing surgical care in these settings with limited resources.

Andrew Papanikitas and John Spicer, Health Education England, UK

With chapters revolving around practical issues and real-world contexts, this Handbook offers much-needed insights into the ethics of primary healthcare. An international set of contributors address a challenging array of topics. These range from the issues arising in primary care interactions, to working with different sources of vulnerability among patients, from contexts connected with teaching and learning, to issues in relation to justice and resources. The book is both interdisciplinary and inter-professional, including not just 'standard' philosophical clinical ethics but also approaches using the humanities, clinical empirical research, management theory and much else besides.

How To Do Primary Care Research

Edited by Felicity Goodyear-Smith and Robert Mash, Division of Family Medicine and Primary Care, Stellenbosch University, Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences

Series: WONCA Family Medicine

This practical 'How To' guide takes the reader step-by-step through designing, conducting and disseminating primary care research, a growing discipline internationally. The majority of health care issues are experienced by people in community settings, who are not adequately represented by hospital-based research. There is therefore a great need to upskill family physicians and other primary care workers and academics to conduct community-based research to inform best practice.

Aimed at emerging researchers, including those in developing countries, this book also addresses cutting edge and newly developing research methods, which will be of equal interest to more experienced researchers.

Introduction to Anatomy and Physiology for Healthcare Students

David Sturgeon, Canterbury Christ Church University, UK

This book provides a highly accessible introduction to anatomy and physiology. Written for students studying the subject for the first time, it covers the human body from the atomic and cellular levels through to all the major systems and including chapters on blood and immunity and homeostasis. By the end of each chapter, the reader will understand and be able to explain how the structures and systems described are organised and contribute to the maintenance of health. Complete with self-test questions, full colour illustrations and a comprehensive glossary, it is an essential read for all nursing and healthcare students in both further and higher education.

Levick's Introduction to Cardiovascular Physiology

Neil Herring, Associate Professor & BHF Intermediate Fellow, University Oxford, Tutor & Fellow, Keble College and Lecturer Merton College, Consultant Cardiologist, Oxford University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust. and David J. Paterson, Professor of Cardiovascular Physiology and Head of the Department of Physiology, Anatomy & Genetics, University of Oxford, Oxford, UK

A sound knowledge of cardiovascular physiology is fundamental to understanding cardiovascular disease, exercise performance and many other aspects of human physiology. Cardiovascular physiology is a major component of all undergraduate courses in physiology, biomedical science and medicine, and this popular introduction to the subject is intended primarily for these students. A key feature of this sixth edition is how state-of-the-art technology is applied to understanding cardiovascular function in health and disease. Thus the text is also well suited to graduate study programmes in medicine and physiological sciences.

Intensive Care Nursing

A Framework for Practice

Philip Woodrow, East Kent Hospitals NHS Trust, UK

This new edition of Intensive Care Nursing has been revised throughout to ensure the evidence-base is completely up-to-date and the content reflects contemporary best practice. It covers patient-focused issues of bedside nursing; the technical knowledge necessary to care safely for ICU patients; the more common and specialized disease processes and treatments encountered; and how nurses can use their knowledge and skills to develop their own and others' practice. It is essential reading for nurses and health professionals working with seriously ill patients, particularly those undertaking post-registration training in the area.

Introducing Pharmacology

For Nursing and Healthcare

Roger McFadden, Birmingham City University, UK

This third edition of Introducing Pharmacology provides an accessible and engaging introduction to the subject of pharmacology for nursing and healthcare students - and anyone needing to refresh their knowledge of this important area.

This edition recognises that many nursing and healthcare courses are now requiring students to engage with the subject of pharmacology at a higher level. Accordingly, this edition has been reinforced with more advanced pharmacology that will help these students, but without losing the clarity and accessibility of earlier editions.

Human Molecular Genetics

Tom Strachan, Newcastle University, UK and Andrew Read, University of Manchester, UK

Human Molecular Genetics has been carefully crafted over successive editions to provide an authoritative introduction to the molecular aspects of human genetics, genomics and cell biology. Maintaining the features that have made previous editions so popular, this fifth edition has been completely updated in line with the latest developments and remains the 'go-to' book for those studying human molecular genetics or genomics courses around the world. Older technologies such as cloning and hybridization have been merged and summarized, coverage of newer DNA sequencing technologies has been expanded, and powerful new gene editing and single-cell genomics technologies have been added.

6th Edition

Policy Analysis

Concepts and Practice

David L. Weimer, University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA and Aidan R. Vining, Simon Fraser University, Canada

Often described as a Public Policy 'bible,' Weimer and Vining remains the essential primer it ever was. Now in its 6th edition, Policy Analysis provides a strong conceptual foundation of the rationales for, and the limitations to, public policy. It offers practical advice about how to do policy analysis, but goes a bit deeper, to demonstrate the application of advanced analytical techniques through the use of case studies. Policy Analysis: Concepts and Practices remains a comprehensive, serious, and rich introduction to policy analysis for students in public policy, public administration, and business programs.

The Psychology of Addiction

Jenny Svanberg, Stirling Community Hospital, UK

Series: The Psychology of Everything

This accessible book takes a psychological approach to understanding addiction. It considers key questions and myths surrounding addiction such as 'how do people get hooked?' and 'can you recover from addiction?' Using examples from popular culture, the book also draws on psychological and neuroscientific theories and sets addiction in a social context, comparing drug addiction with other types such as gambling and sex. It goes on to consider addiction recovery and different therapies such as mindfulness, suggesting a compassionate approach to understanding addiction may lead to changes in drug policy. It will be of interest to anyone looking for a psychological understanding of addiction.

The Psychology of Climate Change

Geoffrey Beattie and Laura McGuire

Series: The Psychology of Everything

This book offers a psychological perspective on the current thinking on climate change, an issue of major global importance. The authors seek to demonstrate that there's a significant psychological issue connected with climate change in relation to the development of the climate change debate, optimism bias, the failure of climate change initiatives, and our attitudes towards the environment. There is also discussion of how behaviour in relation to climate change can be changed, to go some way to resolve the mistakes that have been made in the past in relation to our environment. This is fascinating reading for students, general readers and policy makers interested in climate change.

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Conspiracy Theories presents an engaging introduction to the origins of widespread belief in conspiracy theories. Through a discussion of the history of conspiracy theories, the book will debunk the myth that they are a modern phenomenon, exploring the broad contexts they can appear in from politics to the workplace. It will then go on to consider why some people are more susceptible to these beliefs than others, and why such beliefs are not a pathological trait. The book draws on a wealth of examples surrounding events and issues such as the 9/11 terrorist attacks and climate change.

The Psychology of Dieting

Jane Ogden

Series: The Psychology of Everything

In an era of increasing obesity and its attendant health issues, for some people dieting is almost a matter of life and death. For others, wracked by body dissatisfaction, dieting can be similarly dangerous. In the Psychology of Dieting, health psychologist Jane Ogden offers a clear-sighted overview of why some of us become overweight and why losing weight is so difficult. Citing the latest research, and exploring the cognitive, social and emotional triggers which lead us to make poor decisions around food, it builds to provide a guide to how we can change our behaviour to lose weight and lead healthier lives.

The Psychology of Gardening

Harriet Gross

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Gardening is the first book of its kind to explore gardening from a psychological perspective. Research shows that positive effects of gardening arise from both active physical participation and experiencing nearby nature. The book highlights how both these elements contribute to our understanding of the benefits of gardening. Each chapter reviews a different aspect of gardening experience, demonstrating how individual, evolutionary and social psychological theories offer new insights into a very familiar activity. The book will be of great interest to students in environmental psychology as well as members of the horticultural society and those interested in

The Psychology of Grief

Richard Gross, Full-time academic author

Series: The Psychology of Everything

Everyone, at some point in their lives, experiences bereavement and the feelings of grief that accompany it. The Psychology of Grief offers not only an overview of how psychologists have sought to explain this most human emotion, but also the way grief is understood in different social, religious and historical contexts. Including individual accounts, the book examines how we attempt to make sense of the world in the aftermath of losing a loved one, as well as the social rules and norms which frame that process. An intelligent and humane account, the book debunks myths around the 'stages' of grieving, as well as examining the evidence for personal growth in the wake of bereavement.

The Psychology of Sex

Meg John Barker, The Open University, UK
Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Sex plugs the gap between conventional wisdom about sex and what we know about sex and sexuality from academic research in this area. It draws on psychology in its broadest sense, arguing that for a complete understanding of sex we need to study the history of human sexual behaviour, and the social context in which it happens, as well as considering individual human experience and the way the body and brain work. The book looks at some of the most common myths about sex and sexuality - e.g. surrounding sexual identity, sex drive, sex addiction, "normal" and "abnormal" sex - and shows how recent research can help the way we think about all these things.

The Psychology of Trust

Ken J. Rotenberg, University of Keele, UK
Series: The Psychology of Everything

Western societies today are facing a crisis of trust. Politicians, journalists, police officers, church officials, CEOs: all are distrusted. Based on a series of popular Psychology Today blogs, this engaging summary reviews the psychological research on trust so that student, practitioner, and members of the public at large understand how people trust others. The purpose of the book is to identify the factors that cause people to trust, the contexts for trust, and the consequences of trust. It is designed to provide a concise and coherent body of knowledge regarding the role that trust plays in humans.

The Psychology of Vampires

David Cohen
Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Vampires investigates why the legend of the vampire continues to haunt popular imagination. In this entertaining book, the author describes the origins of the vampire in myth and history, and the psychological and cultural theories which try to explain why they fascinate us. Weaving in a biographical account of John Polidori who wrote the first vampire tale, this book explores psychoanalytic and psychiatric theories of vampires, the dynamics of contemporary vampire groups and the vampire's cultural legacy. It is valuable reading for courses on psychological and psychiatric approaches to myth and folklore within psychology, mental health and cultural theory.

The Psychology of Weather

Trevor Harley, University of Dundee

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Weather provides an accessible and up to date account of how humans interact with the weather. Beginning with an exploration of why humans are so fascinated by the weather, the book introduces ideas about weather watchers, extreme occurrences of weather, and how the media portrays different weather events. The book also provides a fascinating insight into how the weather can affect our mood and behaviour; its role in mental disorders and phobias such as SAD and Brontophobia, as well as how it can impact our consumer choices and reasoning behaviour. This book is an essential read for anyone looking to understand the human relationship with the weather.

The Psychology of Working Life

Toon W. Taris, University of Utrecht, the Netherlands

Series: The Psychology of Everything

Providing a brief yet thorough overview of the most famous psychological ideas and findings that influence working life today, whether they have been found to be incorrect or even partly true, The Psychology of Working Life asks two key questions: why do we work the way we do, and if work performance can be improved, at what costs are there for the individual worker? Charting our ideas about work from the Greeks through the scientific management movement and onto the IT revolution of the present day, the book will appeal to students of organizational psychology, HRM and related areas, professionals, or general readers interested in the principles upon which their working lives are based.

Programming with MATLAB for Scientists

A Beginner's Introduction

Eugeniy E. Mikhailov, College of William and Mary, Department of Physics, Williamsburg, Virginia, USA

This book offers an introduction to the basics of MATLAB programming to scientists and engineers. The author leads with engaging examples to build a working knowledge, specifically geared to those with science and engineering backgrounds. The reader is empowered to model and simulate real systems, as well as present and analyze everyday data sets. In order to achieve those goals, the contents bypass excessive "under the hood" details, and instead gets right down to the essential, practical foundations for successful programming and modeling.
