Welcome

Welcome to the new Africa ISE (International Student Edition) catalogue. All the titles listed in this catalogue are available to the African market at specially reduced prices, direct from your local bookseller. With over 400 titles listed, the Taylor & Francis list includes a diverse range of both new titles and new editions of well-established titles, covering vocational and professional, in key subject areas such as Medical, Law, Business, Engineering and Construction.

Highlights for this year sees the addition of the brand-new Academic Writing for University Students. Designed to help all students succeed in writing essays, reports and other papers for coursework and exams, this book provides all the tools needed to master the necessary skills.

In our Media & Cultural Studies section we see the arrival of the 8th edition of Broadcast Journalism, an essential text on the production of news broadcasting and the practical skills needed. Mobile and Social Media Journalism is an essential resource for learning how journalists and news organizations use mobile and social media to gather news, distribute content, and engage with audiences. We also have a thoroughly revised and updated edition of Media Studies. This is an essential introduction for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media studies, cultural studies, communication studies, film studies, the sociology of the media and popular culture.

To complement our Medical section, we've added 6 new titles but top of the pile would have to be Scott-Brown's Essential Otorhinolaryngology, Head & Neck Surgery. Based on Scott-Brown's 3 volume set, this portable handbook provides a concise summary of ENT surgery for use in clinics, the ward, and the operating room. Ideal for medical students, newly qualified junior doctors and other healthcare professionals, Pocket Essential Medical Equipment provides a convenient and concise handbook to refer to in busy clinical settings including emergency departments.

Our Vocational section will see a new publication, Plumbing Principles and Practice. This book provides a complete introduction to plumbing services. It explains the principles and provides practical examples of the planning, design, installation, and maintenance of the plumbing technologies applicable to single-storey buildings, skyscrapers and everything in between.

This year also sees the arrival of new editions of some of our key bestselling titles to include:-

- Digital Marketing Excellence – 6th Edition
- Environmental Chemistry – 11th Edition
- Geometric and Engineering Drawing – 4th Edition
- Mary Sheridan's From Birth to Five Years – 5th Edition
- Mind Maps for Medical Students – 2nd Edition

Economic Growth and Development in Africa

Understanding trends and prospects

Horman Chitonge, University of Cape Town, South Africa

Series: Routledge Studies in African Development

This book analyses the accounts of Africa's economic growth and development experiences, including the current Africa Rising Narrative, from multidisciplinary perspectives. It is a critical assessment of the explanations given for the widely acknowledged poor economic growth and development performance in Africa, prior to the 2000s. It uniquely tries to locate African intellectuals and scholars in the construction of Africa's economic growth and development portraits over the years. It also provides a detailed analysis of how the World Bank and the IMF have interpreted and dealt with the African development challenges and experiences.

Banking Regulation in Africa

The Case of Nigeria and Other Emerging Economies

Folashade Adeyemo

Series: Routledge Research in Finance and Banking Law

There is scarce literature on the development of banking regulation in Nigeria, or the scope of powers of the Central Bank of Nigeria, which is its core banking sector regulator. This book offers a detailed exploration of the Nigerian regulatory architecture. It engages in a comparative analysis with two emerging economies in Africa: South Africa and Kenya. It also considers the UK and the US as comparator jurisdictions in light of their regulatory responses to the 2008 global financial crisis. This book explores the theoretical underpinnings of regulation and supervision to determine whether there is an understanding of what constitutes effective regulation in these jurisdictions.

Industrial Development in Africa

Mapping Industrialization Pathways for a Leaping Leopard

Berhanu Abegaz, College of William and Mary, USA

Industrial Development in Africa critically synthesizes and reframes the debates on African industrial development in a capability-opportunity framework. Unpacking complex and diverse experiences, the chapters look at Africa at several levels: continent-wide, sub-regions on both side of the Sahara and present analytical case studies of twelve representative countries: Egypt, Tunisia, Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanzania, Mauritius, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Ghana, Nigeria, Senegal, and Cote d'Ivoire.

Marketing Management in Africa

Edited by George Tesar, Umeå University, Sweden, Steven W. Anderson, Hassimi Traore and Jens Graff

Marketing Management in Africa focuses on strategies for developing consumer markets in Africa using concepts and techniques from marketing, entrepreneurship, and project management. The authors argue that entrepreneurial activity in Africa is rapid, but limited, and requires a structured approach to drive success. This book will prove a valuable companion to any student of marketing or entrepreneurship with a particular interest in Africa.

The Political Economy of Africa

Edited by Vishnu Padayachee, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

The Political Economy of Africa aims to fill a major gap in the existing literature by exploring the economy and economics of Africa. The book will adopt a critical approach from a perspective of political economy rather than mainstream economics and the aim is to address the seemingly intractable economic problems of the African continent, and trace their origins, but also always to bring out the instances of successful economic change, and the possibilities for economic revival and renewal.

Climate Change and Agriculture in Africa

Impact Assessment and Adaptation Strategies

Ariel Dinar, Rashid Hassan, Robert Mendelsohn, James Benhin and et al

Series: Earthscan Climate

This landmark book encompasses a comprehensive assessment of the potential economic impacts of future climate change, and the value of adaptation measures in Africa for different zones, regions, countries and farm types. Researchers developed and applied multiple analytical procedures to assess quantitatively how climate affects current agricultural systems in Africa, enabling them to predict how these systems may be affected in the future by climate change under various global warming scenarios, and suggesting what role adaptation could play.

Conservation and Development in Uganda

Edited by Chris Sandbrook, UNEP, UK, Connor Joseph Cavanagh, Norwegian University of Life Sciences, Norway and David Mwesigye Tumusiime, Makerere University, Uganda

Series: Earthscan Conservation and Development

This volume reviews and assesses varied approaches to conservation and development in Uganda, a country whose recent history is characterized by a highly volatile governance and development context and whose extensive protected areas, tropical forests and iconic wildlife (including mountain gorillas) have global significance for biodiversity. It highlights the stakes both for vulnerable human populations in the context of large and growing socioeconomic inequalities, as well as for Uganda's rich, unique, natural environment. It draws out lessons that can be learned from the Ugandan experience for conservation and development practitioners and scholars around the world.

3rd Edition

The History of Africa

The Quest for Eternal Harmony

Molefi Kete Asante, Temple University, USA

Authoritative and comprehensive, this book provides a wide-ranging history of Africa from earliest prehistory to the present day – using the cultural, social, political, and economic lenses of Africa as instruments to illuminate the ordinary lives of Africans. The result is a fresh survey that includes a wealth of indigenous ideas, African concepts, and traditional outlooks that have escaped the writing of African history in the West. The new edition includes information on the recent conflicts in Libya and the Sudan, as well as additional content on the experiences and contributions of women.

Yoruba Oral Tradition in Islamic Nigeria

A History of Dàdàkùàdà

Abdul-Rasheed Na'Allah

This book traces Dàdàkùàdà's history and artistic vision and discusses its vibrancy as the most popular traditional Yoruba oral art form in Islamic Africa. The book covers the history, cultural identity, performance techniques, language, social life and relationship with Islam of the oral genre. The author examines Dàdàkùàdà's relationship with Islam and discusses how the Dàdàkùàdà singers are able to accommodate Islam in ways that have ensured their continued survival as a traditional African genre in a predominantly Muslim community. This book will be of interest to scholars of traditional African culture, African art history, performance studies and Islam in Africa,

Debating African Philosophy

Perspectives on Identity, Decolonial Ethics and Comparative Philosophy

Edited by George Hull, University of Cape Town, South Africa
In African countries there has been a surge of intellectual interest in foregrounding ideas and thinkers of African origin that have been unjustly ignored or marginalized. This book demonstrates the potential for constructive interchange between currents of thought from African philosophy and other intellectual currents within philosophy. Showing how foregrounding Africa can help with the project of renewing and improving the discipline of philosophy worldwide, this book will stimulate and challenge everyone with an interest in philosophy, and is essential reading for upper level undergraduate students, postgraduate students and scholars of African and Africana philosophy.

The Life and Times of Chinua Achebe

Kalu Ogbaa

Series: Global Africa

The Life and Times of Chinua Achebe introduces readers to the life, literary works, and times of arguably the most widely-read African novelist of recent times, an icon, both in continental Africa and abroad. The book weaves together the story of Chinua Achebe, a young Igboman whose novel Things Fall Apart opened the eyes of the world to a more realistic image of Africa, a continent warped by generations of European travelers, colonists, and writers. In this book Kalu Ogbaa, an esteemed expert on Achebe and his works, draws on extensive research and personal interviews with the great man and his colleagues and friends, to tell the story of Achebe and his work.

A New Narrative for Africa

Voice and Agency

Abiodun Alao, Kings College London, UK

This book examines the perception of Africa in the global system, tracing Africa's transition from a "problem" to be solved into an agent with a rising voice in the world. The author calls for a new political narrative about Africa, capturing the multi-disciplinary dimensions of Africa's "transition" and critically examining its ramifications. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, this book will be of interest across African Studies, Global Affairs, politics, economics and development studies.

Africa Under Neoliberalism

Edited by Nana Poku, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa and Jim Whitman, University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa

Series: Contemporary African Politics

Bringing together leading researchers and analysts to examine key questions from a multidisciplinary perspective this book involves a fundamental departure from orthodox analysis which often predicated colonialism as the referent object. Here, three decades of neoliberalism with its complex social and economic philosophy are given primacy. With the changed focus, an elucidation of the relationship between global development and local changes are examined through a myriad of pressing contemporary issues to offer a critical multi-disciplinary appraisal of challenge and change in Africa over the past three decades.

Post-Colonial Kenya

The Rise of an Authoritarian and Predatory State

Rok Ajulu

Series: Contemporary African Politics

This engaging reassessment of postcolonial Kenyan political history develops a theory of historical change and the role of leading figures in it. Combining political economy with political sociology it demonstrates how violence following the contested presidential election of 2007 represented, to a much more extreme extent, a continuation of the pattern of political contestation that has repeated itself throughout Kenya's political history.

Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy

The Inside Story of the Sustainable Development Goals

Macharia Kamau, Pamela Chasek and David O'Connor

Transforming Multilateral Diplomacy provides the inside view of the negotiations that produced the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Not only did this process mark a sea change in how the UN conducts multilateral diplomacy, it changed the way the UN does its business. This book tells the story of the people, issues, negotiations, and paradigm shifts that unfolded through the Open Working Group (OWG) on SDGs and the subsequent negotiations on the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda, from the unique point of view of Ambassador Macharia Kamau, and other key participants from governments, the UN Secretariat, and civil society.

Real Governance and Practical Norms in Sub-Saharan Africa

The game of the rules

Edited by Tom De Herdt, University of Antwerp, Belgium, and Jean-Pierre OLIVIER de SARDAN, LASDEL, Niamey, Niger

Series: Routledge Studies in African Politics and International Relations

This text interrogates the variety of ways in which state policies and legal norms have been translated into sets of practical norms making up real governance in sub-Saharan Africa. It argues that the concept of practical norms is one of the appropriate tools for an ethnographic investigation on public bureaucracies, interactions between civil servants and users, or the daily functioning of the state in Africa.

Uniting Africa

David J. Francis

Plagued by bloody wars and armed conflicts, political instability, communal violence and displaced persons, and at the mercy of natural catastrophes such as drought and famine, it is not surprising that the Western press has long dismissed Africa as the 'hopeless continent'. In the face of these challenges, Africa today is faced with a stark choice: either unite or perish. The debate on why and how the continent should unite in terms of co-operative peace, security and development is more urgent than at any other time in Africa's post-colonial history. Moving forward from the failure of the earlier, typically idealistic Africa unity project, David Francis demonstrates how peace and security challenges have created the imperative for change. He argues that a series of regional peace and security systems are emerging, and that states that have participated in practical experiments in regional peacekeeping, peace support operations, conflict stabilization/management.

Boko Haram

Security Considerations and the Rise of an Insurgency

Ona Ekhomu

Boko Haram examines the activities and atrocities of Nigeria's Jihadi terrorist group Boko Haram in the context of global religious fundamentalism and extremism. The book traces the early beginnings of the religious sect, the conversion of its leader to radical Islam in 2002, and the group's campaign of violence. The Nigerian government response is also examined in order to provide critical lessons to counter-terrorism planners, officials and scholars. Coverage focuses on the work done, and what work needs to continue, to make gains to combat, marginalize, and ultimately defeat Boko Haram and resolve the conflict facing Nigeria.

Nigerian Pentecostalism and Development

Spirit, Power, and Transformation

Richard Burgess

Series: Routledge Research in Religion and Development

The Nigerian Pentecostal landscape is one of the most vibrant in Africa, with churches increasingly assuming more prominent roles as they seek to address the social and moral ills of contemporary society. This book examines the contributions of Nigerian Pentecostal churches to development, studying their practices broadly in relation to the intersecting spheres of politics, social service, education, economics, and the media. The book will be of considerable interest to scholars and students with an interest in the intersection between religion and development, and to practitioners and policy makers working in the region.

Peacebuilding in Contemporary Africa

In Search of Alternative Strategies

Edited by Kenneth Omeje

Series: Routledge Studies in African Development

Peacebuilding in Contemporary Africa explores the challenges faced by societies transitioning from armed conflicts to peace in contemporary Africa. It evaluates the effectiveness and outcomes of existing peacebuilding initiatives, and proposes new strategies to facilitate the transition. In particular, the book aims to investigate micro-level conflicts, as they are often disregarded in peacebuilding literature, which tends to focus on macro-level, neo-liberal state reconstruction and peacebuilding efforts. The book provides a much needed perspective from African scholars, and will interest students, researchers, policy makers and practitioners with an interest in promoting peace in Africa.

Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Peter Drucker

Series: Routledge Classics

How can management be developed to create the greatest wealth for society as a whole? This is the question Peter Drucker sets out to answer in Innovation and Entrepreneurship. A brilliant, mould-breaking attack on management orthodoxy it is one of Drucker's most important books, offering an excellent overview of some of his main ideas. He argues that what defines an entrepreneur is their attitude to change: 'the entrepreneur always searches for change, responds to it and exploits it as an opportunity'. To exploit change, according to Drucker, is to innovate.

The Goal

A Process of Ongoing Improvement

Eliyahu M. Goldratt and Jeff Cox

Written in a fast-paced thriller style, The Goal is the gripping novel which is transforming management thinking throughout the Western world. The author has been described by Fortune as a 'guru to industry' and by Businessweek as a 'genius'. It is a book to recommend to your friends in industry - even to your bosses - but not to your competitors. Alex Rogo is a harried plant manager working ever more desperately to try and improve performance. His factory is rapidly heading for disaster. So is his marriage. He has ninety days to save his plant - or it will be closed by corporate HQ, with hundreds of job losses. It takes a chance meeting with a colleague from student days - Jonah - to help him break out of conventional ways of thinking to see what needs to be done. The story of Alex's fight to save his plant is more than compulsive reading. It contains a serious message for all managers in industry and explains the ideas which underline the Theory of Constraints (TOC).

10 Mindframes for Visible Learning

Teaching for Success

John Hattie, University of Melbourne and Klaus Zierer, University of Augsburg, Germany

The original Visible Learning research concluded that one of the most important influencers of student achievement is how teachers think about learning and their own role. Mindframes for Visible Learning defines the 10 behaviours or mindframes that teachers need to adopt to maximise student success. These powerful mindframes that should underpin every action in school are founded on the belief that teachers are evaluators, change agents, learning experts and seekers of feedback constantly engaged with dialogue and challenge. This practical guide includes questionnaires, checklists and exercises to help schools implement Hattie's mindframes and maximise success.

How to Teach Maths

Understanding Learners' Needs

Steve Chinn, Visiting Professor, University of Derby, UK

Bestselling and award-winning author Steve Chinn challenges many of the long-established methods, beliefs and the culture of maths teaching in this radical new book. His premise is that the way we teach the top 75% of achievers in maths can be improved by using many of the methods and principles that are successful with the bottom 25%. He shows how to adjust the way maths is presented to the learner, looking at the learners' needs first and the maths second, and explains the absolute importance of securing the early learning to set firm foundations for future success. Based on decades of classroom experience and research, this book has the potential to change the way maths is taught forever.

Law: The Basics

Gary Slapper, NYU London, UK and David Kelly, formerly at Staffordshire University, UK

Series: The Basics

An engaging introduction to one of the most complex areas of modern life. The book introduces both the main components of the legal system - including judges, juries and law-makers - and key areas of law - contract, civil negligence, and criminal law - to provide the uninitiated with an ideal introduction to law. Key questions to be considered include:

How are laws made? How do judges decide cases? What is the exact role of the EU in the legal system? What are your rights and duties under contract law? What is a crime and what are criminal defences?

Throughout the book, a wide range of contemporary cases are examined to relate key legal concepts to familiar examples and real world situations.

Modern Land Law

Martin Dixon, University of Cambridge, UK

Modern Land Law is one of the most current and reliable textbooks available on land law today. A clear introduction to every chapter frames each topic in its wider context and corresponding chapter summaries help to consolidate learning and encourage reflection. The 12th edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to address key developments in the law, featuring new cases such as Regency Villas v Diamond Resorts, and analysis of changes to significant case law in land registration and co-ownership, recent Law Commission reports on land registration and leases, and HM land registry's digital services.

Timon Hughes-Davies and Nathan Tamblyn

Series: Spotlights

What happens if a driver carelessly crashes into another car? Or a newspaper publishes a story which makes derogatory comments about someone? Tort law is a collection of such misbehaviours or misadventures where the law deems it appropriate to intervene with civil remedies.

This new textbook addresses a range of the most prominent torts. The law is explained with clear writing and an accessible approach, relating the subject to everyday examples. There are key learning points to help anchor the reader's basic understanding, and sections of analysis to guide the reader to a more advanced critical engagement.

Living with Mental Illness in a Globalised World

Combating Stigma and Barriers to Healthcare

Ugo Ikwuka

Living with Mental Illness in a Globalised World systematically examines the manifold contributions to the burdens of living with mental illness in a developing and globalized world. It explores the stigma of mental illness, the burden of which compares to the symptoms of and is sometimes considered more disabling than the illness itself. The text's specific examination of mental health care in African countries makes it a timely piece for assisting mental health professionals in understanding the inequities in care that Black Asian and Minority Ethnic groups face and how to improve mental health care and delivery to these groups.

The Psychology of Art

George Mather, University of Lincoln, UK

Series: The Psychology of Everything

How do we define art? Why do we want to create artistic works? How does the brain inform aesthetic judgement? The Psychology of Art provides an eclectic introduction to the myriad ways that psychology can enrich our understanding and appreciation of art. The book draws on scientific approaches to the study of human sensation and perception, bridging the gap between psychology and traditional approaches to art taken in the humanities. With art as a constant source of inspiration, conflict, and conversation, The Psychology of Art introduces the reader to new ways of thinking about why and how we create and consume art.

Surviving Lockdown

Human Nature in Social Isolation

David Cohen

This book reflects on the unprecedented changes to our lives and the impact on our human behaviour as we lived through social isolation during the global Covid-19 pandemic. From sociable creatures of habit, we were forced into a period of uncertainty and risk, physically separated from families and friends. Combined with guidance and coping strategies for lockdown, top psychologist, David Cohen, explores the impact of lockdown on our relationships, our children, our mental health and our daily lives, examining the psychology behind our behaviour during this unusual time to discover what we can learn about human nature.

The Psychology of Belonging

Kelly-Ann Allen

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Belonging explores why feeling like we belong is so important throughout our lives, from childhood to old age, irrespective of culture, race, or geography. With its virtues and shortcomings, belonging to groups such as families, social groups, schools, workplaces, and communities, is fundamental to our identity and wellbeing, even in a time where technology has changed the way we connect with each other. In a world where loneliness and social isolation is on the rise, The Psychology of Belonging shows how meaningful connections can build a sense of belonging for all of us.

The Psychology of Addiction

Jenny Svanberg, Stirling Community Hospital, UK

Series: The Psychology of Everything

This accessible book takes a psychological approach to understanding addiction. It considers key questions and myths surrounding addiction such as 'how do people get hooked?' and 'can you recover from addiction?' Using examples from popular culture, the book also draws on psychological and neuroscientific theories and sets addiction in a social context, comparing drug addiction with other types such as gambling and sex. It goes on to consider addiction recovery and different therapies such as mindfulness, suggesting a compassionate approach to understanding addiction may lead to changes in drug policy. It will be of interest to anyone looking for a psychological

The Psychology of Grief

Richard Gross, Full-time academic author

Series: The Psychology of Everything

Everyone, at some point in their lives, experiences bereavement and the feelings of grief that accompany it. The Psychology of Grief offers not only an overview of how psychologists have sought to explain this most human emotion, but also the way grief is understood in different social, religious and historical contexts. Including individual accounts, the book examines how we attempt to make sense of the world in the aftermath of losing a loved one, as well as the social rules and norms which frame that process. An intelligent and humane account, the book debunks myths around the 'stages' of grieving, as well as examining the evidence for personal growth in the wake of

The Psychology of Terrorism

Neil Shortland

Series: The Psychology of Everything

What is terrorism? Can anyone be radicalized? How can we respond to terrorist acts? The Psychology of Terrorism seeks to explain why some acts of violence are considered terrorism, and others are not, and why some individuals may be more susceptible to engaging in terrorist behavior. Debunking myths and lazy stereotypes, the book delves into some of the most shocking atrocities of our times to discuss the complex psychological characteristics of individual terrorists, organised groups, and their acts. Whilst there is no simple solution, The Psychology of Terrorism shows us that a growing reverse radicalization movement and modern interventionist techniques can give us hope for the future.

The Psychology of Sex

Meg John Barker, The Open University, UK

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Sex plugs the gap between conventional wisdom about sex and what we know about sex and sexuality from academic research in this area. It draws on psychology in its broadest sense, arguing that for a complete understanding of sex we need to study the history of human sexual behaviour, and the social context in which it happens, as well as considering individual human experience and the way the body and brain work. The book looks at some of the most common myths about sex and sexuality - e.g. surrounding sexual identity, sex drive, sex addiction, "normal" and "abnormal" sex - and shows how recent research can help the way we think about all these things.

The Psychology of Vampires investigates why the legend of the vampire continues to haunt popular imagination. In this entertaining book, the author describes the origins of the vampire in myth and history, and the psychological and cultural theories which try to explain why they fascinate us. Weaving in a biographical account of John Polidori who wrote the first vampire tale, this book explores psychoanalytic and psychiatric theories of vampires, the dynamics of contemporary vampire groups and the vampire's cultural legacy. It is valuable reading for courses on psychological and psychiatric approaches to myth and folklore within psychology, mental health and cultural theory.

The Psychology of Working Life

Toon W. Taris, University of Utrecht, the Netherlands

Series: The Psychology of Everything

Providing a brief yet thorough overview of the most famous psychological ideas and findings that influence working life today, whether they have been found to be incorrect or even partly true, The Psychology of Working Life asks two key questions: why do we work the way we do, and if work performance can be improved, at what costs are there for the individual worker? Charting our ideas about work from the Greeks through the scientific management movement and onto the IT revolution of the present day, the book will appeal to students of organizational psychology, HRM and related areas, professionals, or general readers interested in the principles upon which their working lives are based.

The Psychology of Video Games

Celia Hodent

Series: The Psychology of Everything

The Psychology of Video Games introduces the curious reader to the relationship between psychology and video games from the perspective of both game makers and players. Assuming no specialist knowledge, this concise, approachable guide is a starter book for anyone intrigued by what makes video games engaging and what is their psychological impact on gamers. It digests the research exploring the benefits gaming can have on players in relation to education and healthcare, considers the concerns over potential negative impacts such as pathological gaming, and concludes with some ethics considerations.

Introduction to Sociology

Frank van Tubergen, Utrecht University, Netherlands

This textbook presents in a highly accessible and engaging way key knowledge in sociology, introducing students to core concepts, theories, perspectives, methods and findings.

Furthermore, it helps students learning to think like a sociologist. It offers students a 'sociological toolkit', a set of useful insights, tools and principles, which will enable them to do research like a sociologist themselves. Being able to think like a sociologist helps students to analyze any sociological topic and any contemporary social problem - even those with which one is yet unfamiliar.

Series: Medical Finals Revision Series

Written by a final year medical student, junior doctors and experienced clinicians, 500 Single Best Answers in Medicine provides invaluable guidance from authors who understand from personal experience that detailed and accurate explanations are the key to successful revision. This book presents 500 SBA-style questions arranged by speciality area as well as a practice exam of random questions. A clear discussion of how the correct answer was reached and other options ruled out for every question is given at the end of each section, making this book an excellent learning aid during all stages of clinical studies, and particularly while preparing for medical finals.

Acute Pain Management

A Practical Guide

Pamela E. Macintyre, Royal Adelaide Hospital, South Australia and Stephan A. Schug, University of Western Australia, Perth

With a focus on practical acute pain management in adults in the hospital setting, this book provides health professionals with simple and practical information to help them manage patients with acute pain safely and effectively. Combining evidence-based information with practical guidelines and protocols, it covers the pharmacology of opioids, local anesthetics, and nonopioid and adjuvant analgesic agents. The book also discusses pain management in both surgical and nonsurgical acute pain settings, and considers the role of acute pain management in the context of the current opioid epidemic.

Apley & Solomon's System of Orthopaedics and Trauma

Edited by Ashley Blom, University of Bristol, United Kingdom, David Warwick, University Hospital, Southampton, United Kingdom and Michael Whitehouse, University of Bristol, United Kingdom

Now in its Tenth Edition and in continuous publication since 1959, Apley & Solomon's System of Orthopaedics and Trauma is one of the world's leading textbooks of orthopaedic surgery. Relied upon by generations of orthopaedic trainees the book remains true to the teaching principles of the late Alan Apley and his successor Professor Louis Solomon. This new edition is fully revised and updated under the leadership of new editors.

It retains the familiar 'Apley' philosophy and structure, and is divided into three major sections: General Orthopaedics, Regional Orthopaedics and Trauma, thus enabling readers to gain the knowledge they need for their lifetime learning.

Global Surgery and Anesthesia Manual

Providing Care in Resource-limited Settings

Edited by John G. Meara, MD, DMD, MBA, FACS, FRACS, Children's Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, USA, Craig D. McClain, MD, MPH, MD MPH Boston Children's Hospital and Harvard Medical School, Boston, Massachusetts, USA, Selwyn O. Rogers, Jr., MD, MPH, FACS, MD MPH FACS University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston, Texas, USA and David P. Mooney, MD, MPH, FACS

To help advance global surgery as a public health intervention, providers and students require a practical, hands-on manual to train them to provide safe and effective surgery and anesthesia in resource-limited settings. This guide provides in-depth instruction on epidemiology and ethics surrounding surgical services, and on anesthesia, non-trauma surgery, and trauma surgery. With contributions from a group of culturally and academically diverse clinicians, each chapter is enriched by at least one commentary from a surgeon or anesthesiologist in a low- or middle-income country (LMIC) who shares first-hand perspectives on the realities and complexities of providing surgical care in these settings with limited resources.

Edited by Felicity Goodyear-Smith and Robert Mash, Division of Family Medicine and Primary Care, Stellenbosch University, Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences
Series: WONCA Family Medicine

This practical 'How To' guide takes the reader step-by-step through designing, conducting and disseminating primary care research, a growing discipline internationally. The majority of health care issues are experienced by people in community settings, who are not adequately represented by hospital-based research. There is therefore a great need to upskill family physicians and other primary care workers and academics to conduct community-based research to inform best practice.

Aimed at emerging researchers, including those in developing countries, this book also addresses cutting edge and newly developing research methods, which will be of equal interest to more experienced researchers.

Paterson, Professor of Cardiovascular Physiology and Head of the Department of Physiology, Anatomy & Genetics, University of Oxford, Oxford, UK

A sound knowledge of cardiovascular physiology is fundamental to understanding cardiovascular disease, exercise performance and may other aspects of human physiology. Cardiovascular physiology is a major component of all undergraduate courses in physiology, biomedical science and medicine, and this popular introduction to the subject is intended primarily for these students. A key feature of this sixth edition is how state-of-the-art technology is applied to understanding cardiovascular function in health and disease. Thus the text is also well suited to graduate study programmes in medicine and physiological sciences.

Modern Infectious Disease Epidemiology

Johan Giesecke, Professor of Infectious Disease Epidemiology, Karolinska Institute, Stockholm, Sweden

Authoritative yet highly practical, this new edition of a bestseller has been thoroughly updated and revised in line with changing health concerns. It outlines the tools available to the infectious disease student or clinician who wishes to gain a thorough background in epidemiology of infectious and communicable diseases. Using many case studies and practical scenarios, the book then uses the tools learnt to illustrate the fundamental concepts of the study of infectious diseases, such as infection spread, surveillance and control, infectivity, incubation periods, seroepidemiology and immunity in populations.

Muir's Textbook of Pathology

Edited by C Simon Herrington

This classic text sets a standard in this subject by outlining the scientific aspects that underlie pathological processes, relating these to specific organ systems and placing all in a context that the student of medicine or pathology can appreciate, understand and enjoy. The clearly defined and easy-to-follow structure, enhanced by numerous photographs and explanatory line diagrams, focuses on core material without neglecting novel concepts and up-to-the minute detail. A one-stop-shop in pathology, it reflects fully the integration of pathology into clinical teaching whether system or problem-based, and will take the student right through medical school and beyond to postgraduate training.

Wayne Patterson, Private Consultant for Howard University and Cynthia E. Winston-Proctor, Howard University, USA
 This book will provide a basis for new approaches to understanding problems in one of our most important areas of research. The approach, which is agreed upon by most cybersecurity experts, is to incorporate not only traditional technical computational and analytic approaches to cybersecurity, but also developing psychological and human factors approaches, as well. This book is written to help develop cybersecurity curricula, as a support for further research in behavioral science and cybersecurity, and also to support practitioners in this field.

Bird's Higher Engineering Mathematics

John Bird, Defence College of Technical Training, UK
Higher Engineering Mathematics has helped thousands of students to succeed in their exams by developing problem-solving skills. It is supported by over 600 practical engineering examples and applications which relate theory to practice. The extensive and thorough topic coverage makes this a solid text for undergraduate and upper-level vocational courses. Its companion website provides resources for both students and lecturers, including lists of essential formulae, and full solutions to all 2,000 further questions contained in the 277 practice exercises; and illustrations and answers to revision tests for adopting course instructors.

Mathematics Pocket Book for Engineers and Scientists

John Bird, formerly Senior Lecturer, HMS Sultan, UK
 Series: Routledge Pocket Books
 John Bird's compendium of essential formulae, definitions, tables and general information serves engineering students, technicians, scientists and professionals in engineering practice -- from algebra, geometry and trigonometry to logic circuits, differential equations and probability. It is supported by clear and succinct explanations, and illustrated with over 300 line drawings and 500 worked examples. It works as a reference for engineering students, technicians, scientists and professionals and as a revision guide for BTEC Nationals, Higher Nationals and NVQs.

Engineering Science

William Bolton, former Head of Research, Development and Monitoring at BTEC

Engineering Science is a comprehensive textbook for all vocational and pre-degree courses at Level 2 and beginning Level 3. It goes beyond the core science to include applications in the real world and the mechanical and electrical principles needed for the majority of courses. It is well supported by numerous worked examples and problems, with answers. Main changes in this edition are arithmetic, algebraic and graphical methods in engineering (for sections A and B of the BTEC Level 2 unit), and a new chapter introducing the basics of calculus.

James Trevelyan, The University of Western Australia, Crawley, Australia

This book explains engineering practice, what engineers actually do in their work. The first part explains how to find paid engineering work and prepare for an engineering career. The second part explains the fundamentals of engineering practice, including how to gain access to technical knowledge, how to gain the willing collaboration of other people to make things happen, and how to work safely in hazardous environments. This book has been written for engineering students, graduates and novice engineers. Engineering schools will find the book helpful to help students prepare for professional internships and also for creating authentic practice and assessment exercises.

Materials for Engineers and Technicians

William Bolton, retired Head of Research and Development and Monitoring at BTEC and R.A. Higgins

This comprehensive introduction to materials engineering and manufacturing processes for BTEC Level 2 students and beginning level 3 students remains straightforward and readable. The references to specifications for materials and materials testing have been updated to include current European-wide standards. The chapter on selection of materials provides more cases, and the sections on new developments in materials and recycling of materials have been extended. Sustainability and 3D printing are now included, more applications have been indicated, and a number of case studies of materials and associated problems have been added.

Geometric and Engineering Drawing

Ken Morling and Stéphane Danjou, Rhine-Waal University of Applied Sciences, Germany

This introduction to descriptive geometry and contemporary drafting guides the student through the essential principles to create engineering drawings that comply with international standards of technical product specification. This heavily updated new edition now applies to CAD as well as conventional drawing. Extensive new coverage is given to international drafting conventions, methods of spatial visualisation such as multi-view projection, dimensional and geometric tolerancing, and representation of workpiece and machine elements. It is ideal for undergraduates in engineering or product design, as well as students of vocational courses in engineering communication.

Advanced Nutrition

Macronutrients, Micronutrients, and Metabolism

Carolyn D. Berdanier, Professor Emerita, University of Georgia, Athens, USA and Lynnette A. Berdanier, University of North Georgia, Gainesville, USA

Like its predecessors, the new and updated edition of Advanced Nutrition: Macronutrients, Micronutrients, and Metabolism is an essential textbook for advanced undergraduate and first-year graduate students studying human nutrition. This book draws on inter-related sciences including biochemistry, genetics, and physiology to provide a full understanding of nutrition science. The average car now contains much more electronic circuitry than would have been the case, even five years ago. This leaves many technicians struggling to keep up with current developments in the repair and maintenance of these electronic systems. Often, texts covering vehicle electronics dwell on unnecessary maths and general electronics principles. This practical guide discusses electronics only within the context of the vehicle system under consideration and thus keeps theory to a minimum.

Motorcycle Engineering is written to give the reader a good all-round knowledge of how a motorcycle works. The complex engineering behind the machines is explained in easy-to-understand terms and supported by 350 images. It covers a range of motorcycle types, and will be particularly useful for students on motorcycle and motorsport courses such as those run by the IML and City & Guilds, as well as BTEC programmes, and will serve as an excellent introductory text for HND and degree students on automotive type programmes.

Brickwork Level 3

Malcolm Thorpe, past President of the Guild of Bricklayers and former college lecturer, UK

Brickwork Level 3 is highly illustrated throughout and in full colour. This new edition reflects new Occupational Standards and recent changes to the Building Regulations. It has been tailored to match Level 3 of the current Occupational Standards at Diploma, Technical Certificate and Apprenticeship. Each chapter contains a section of multiple choice questions to provide trainees with vital practice for the job knowledge test. The companion website for adopting course instructors includes practical training packs, end tests and mark sheets, power point slides for each chapter, written job knowledge test and answers, and teaching lesson plans and schemes of work.

3rd Edition

Carpentry and Joinery 1Brian Porter and Chris Tooke

The third edition of Carpentry and Joinery 1 is the first in a series of three books which together provide an authoritative but thoroughly practical guide to carpentry and joinery for students following City & Guilds and CITB courses, NVQ candidates, and a wide range of amateurs and professionals.

Carpentry and Joinery 1 deals with the fundamentals of the subject from topics such as timber and wood preservation and protection, to a detailed outline of the tools available and information on the basic woodworking joints, adhesives and fixing devices. Books 2 and 3 show how to apply this fundamental knowledge. Details of craft theory, associated studies and practical procedures are integrated throughout each text.

Work Activities

Chris Tooke

This highly illustrated textbook is written to meet the needs of candidates studying for the NVQ levels 2 and 3 in Carpentry and Joinery, and other courses at this level. Each chapter covers a specific activity such as constructing stairs or windows and includes the selection of produced components, setting out, marking out, assembly and fixing. The book contains references to the companion volume by the same authors (Bench and Site Skills) and to the relevant regulations and standards. Together with Carpentry and Joinery: Bench and Site Skills this book will form an invaluable resource for students long after they qualify.

Fundamentals and Applications

Mike Tooley

This fifth edition provides all the information required to get to grips with the fundamentals of electronics, detailing the underpinning knowledge necessary to appreciate the operation of a wide range of electronic circuits. An additional chapter shows how a wide range of useful electronic applications can be developed in conjunction with the increasingly popular Arduino microcontroller, and a new section details batteries for use in electronic equipment and some additional/updated student assignments. The book's content is matched to the latest pre-degree level courses (from Level 2 up to, and including, Foundation Degree and HND).

PAT: Portable Appliance Testing

In-Service Inspection and Testing of Electrical Equipment

Brian Scaddan

The Electricity at Work Regulations 1989 requires any electrical system to be constructed, maintained and used in such a manner as to prevent danger. This means that inspection and testing of systems, including portable appliances, is needed in order to determine if maintenance is required.

This book explains in clear language what needs to be done and includes expert advice on legislation as well as actual testing. The book contains an appendix providing the electrical fundamentals needed by non-specialists and also has sample questions (with answers) for the C&G 2377 exam.

Pattern Cutting and Making Up

Janet Ward and Martin Shoben

Major changes have occurred in the last few years in the methods of cutting and manufacturing outerwear. Light clothing companies are now manufacturing these heavy garments which have resulted in the deskilling of traditional tailoring methods. Outerwear has consequently assumed much greater importance in light clothing courses and this book - the first of its kind - has been written to reflect these industrial changes. It offers a course of practical and theoretical study which is related to specific garment types and fabrics.
